MANUFACTURING

Warehouse Services Inc. provides light manufacturing services to clients. These services enable our clients to market their products without the costs associated with purchasing raw materials or holding finished goods inventory. In addition, by combining manufacturing operations within the distribution center, our clients eliminate the costs associated with positioning their product in the marketplace. Assembly, Extrusion, Molding, Size Reduction and Laboratory Analysis are just some of the areas our firm currently supports.

ASSET MANAGEMENT

Our team can construct, recommend, source, purchase, manage and own assets for the benefit of our clients. These services enable our clients to free up working capital to invest in objectives that return a higher profit. In addition, changes in our clients' business models might dictate that they need different assets to serve their clients. Warehouse Services Inc. will invest in these assets and re-allocate them to other logistic service models, eliminating underused assets within the supply chain.

TECHNOLOGY

Our team specializes in providing our clients with full visibility to their supply chain. Through integration with our clients' ERPs, we deploy the following technologies to support their distribution networks.

- Warehouse Management Systems
- Transportation Management Systems
- Transportation Operations Management
- Freight Tendering
- WEB Site Reporting
- Electronic Data Interchange
- RFID

Prior to implementing any technology solution, our team will work closely with the client to ensure that it provides value in terms of a safer work place, a more robust process that delivers quality and a significant return on investment for our clients.

CAPABILITIES

TRANSPORTATION

Our firm provides custom integrated transportation solutions. We specialize in dedicated solutions that provide a higher level of service than can be found on the retail marketplace – for example, we can leverage the asset base for the benefit of our client.
